Original configuration to develop the theme of circular movements of the knight very pleasant from an artistic point of view. What is remarkable is how white achieves the objective with positions of zz in their favor. All this complemented with variants and tests of significant technical value, being necessary to appeal to concepts of the theory and practice of end of games for its resolution

White manages to eliminate the threat of domination from the rook and bishop against the two knights. There are some artistic touches, but the main base is the technique among them to avoid the liberation of the bishop of his "incarceration"
